ROME, Aug. 23.—American tanks and motorized infantry drove into Grenoble, only 58 miles southeast of the major city of Lyon, today in a swift 140-mile advance from the Mediterranean coast. (The BBC said the Americans had "liberated" Grenoble and were 240 miles from Allied armies

The thrust inland, which carried to within 27 miles of the last railway linking France and Italy and 30 miles of the Swiss border, liberated dozens of towns and villages and outflanked the heavily defended lower Rhone valley.

Allied headquarters had kept silent on the progress of the drive to confuse further the enemy and lifted the cloak of secrecy only

50 Killed When Flaming Bomber Crashes School

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 23.—(CP Cable)—A flaming American bomber crashed into the heart of the Lancashire village of Freckleton today, killed at least 50 persons—34 of them small children—killed 30 others and left an indefinite number unaccounted for.

The big machine, enveloped in flames, crashed into the infants' department of a church school, left it a mass of burning wreckage, bounced across the main street into a former garage where between 20 and 30 servicemen were sheltering, wrecked it, and then set fire to all the central section of the village.

SCENE OF HAVOC

Fire brigades from all neighboring communities raced to the scene of havoc, where rescue workers were braving the flames to dig through the wreckage in search of little bodies, and soon had the fire under control, though not extinguished.

At least 50 bodies were recovered. Continued on Page 2, Col. 7

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Appointment of a successor on the Alberta supreme court bench to former Chief Justice W. C. Ives will be made here on Monday, Sept. 4, it was learned in well informed political circles Wednesday.

Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, who is at present vacationing at the Pacific coast, will return to the capital on Saturday, Sept. 2, at which time the new appointment will be discussed, and a decision made.

There is a strong drive on here for Gerald O'Connor, K.C., and J. Boyd McBride, K.C., and some disapproval has been expressed because the chief justiceship of the supreme court trial division was given to Chief Justice T. M. Tweddle.

Consideration also will be given on Sept. 4 to the following: Neil D. Maclean, K.C., H. H. Parlee, K.C., and W. J. Mustard, K.C., all of whom have strong support at Edmonton.

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Between 40,000 and 50,000 prisoners have been taken from the Argentinian trap in Normandy, and the German dead have not yet been counted. SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 23.—The liberation of Paris by French patriots places the Allies in command of a vast network of railroads, fine highways, rivers, canals and airports and will surely speed the liberation of all France.

I can state on unimpeachable authority that the battle of France is near its end. The climactic military strokes which will carry the Allied armored forces crashing to the border of the Reich itself are in the making.

Today armored spearheads are a bare three hours jeep ride from Germany—and moving fast—and elimination of the Falaise-Argentan pocket frees the entire British 2nd Army for a new assignment.

The 2nd and 3rd Ukrainian armies punched out gains of up to 43 miles in the first three days of their co-ordinated assaults, capturing Iasi, Romania's second largest city, and 360 other localities and isolating Chisinau, capital of Bessarabia, and the nearby fortress of Tighina.

More than 37,675 Germans were killed or captured in the initial advances, the Soviet high command announced in its midnight communique.

Paris Liberated By Thousands Of Frenchmen

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Paris shook loose the shackles of four years of enemy bondage today and stood free once more. Liberated by armed and unarmed tens of thousands of Frenchmen who swept the Nazis from the city's streets, while Allied armor might drew up around the capital.

A special communique from Gen. De Gaulle's headquarters in London announced the liberation after four days of street fighting that recalled scenes of Bastille Day when the mobs of Paris once before struck an historic blow for liberty.

This time, the communique said, the fight was led by 50,000 organized French forces of the interior. Bolstered by hundreds of thousands more who joined in with whatever weapons they could find.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 23.—Powerful British, Canadian and American forces, together with Dutch and Belgian units, converged on the Seine river line today, tightening a great noose around the broken elements of the German 7th Army, while other American tank columns pounded eastward virtually unopposed toward the railway hub of Troyes in a bid to trap all Nazi armies in the south of France.

Front dispatches revealed that Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's troops were driving beyond the ancient fortified city of Sens, which they captured yesterday after a 65-mile thrust around the southern suburbs of Paris, and heading directly for Troyes, 130 miles west of Germany.

With the break-through into Eastern France, headquarters permitted correspondents to state flatly that the battle of France is nearing its end and that the liberation of the entire country is not far off.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 23.—French patriot forces have liberated Paris, it was announced today, while British, Canadian and Allied armies tightened a great noose around more than 90,000 survivors of the beaten German 7th army and American columns drove unopposed far beyond the French metropolis to within 160 miles of the German border.

As the armored might of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's armies battered the life from remaining enemy forces in northern and central France, hundreds of thousands of French patriots stormed through the streets of Paris rounding up German stragglers and the traitors of Vichy who had been left behind when the last Nazi regiments fled.

The city fell yesterday, four years and 70 days after the triumphant Wehrmacht marched through the Arc De Triomphe and seized the French capital without firing a shot.

Apparently only suicide detachments remained to defend Paris during the last hours of German rule, and the enemy was believed to have extricated most of his garrison forces before the patriots struck.

Gen. Charles de Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation was believed rushing to the capital to establish his provisional government there. It was considered possible that Koenig, newly-appointed governor of Paris, might already be in the city.

Gen. Pierre Koenig, commander-in-chief of the French forces of the interior, announced that his patriot army, 50,000 strong and supported by countless thousands of unarmed Parisians, won back the capital in four days of bloody street fighting that began last Saturday when the call for a general uprising in Paris was sounded.

The battle reached its climax yesterday when the patriots obtained light artillery—presumably from the Allies—and began shelling German garrison posts.

Parisian gendarmes seized the historic Ile de Cite in the Seine river in the heart of the capital and turned it into a blazing fortress against which the Nazis spent their last strength in a series of bloody and fruitless attacks.

(The world famous Cathedral of Notre Dame is on the Ile de Cite, but there was no immediate indication.)

Vote Campaign Closing in N.B.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 23.—(CP)—With only five days remaining before polling day, Aug. 28, the New Brunswick election campaign went into higher gear down the home stretch today as the candidates increased their efforts to win votes.

After a period of nine years in power, Liberals are seeking reelection under Premier J. B. McNair, a candidate in York. The Progressive Conservative leader Hugh Mackay, is running in Kings, and the CCF is making its first serious effort in the province under the leadership of J. A. Muirhead, one of 12 candidates in Saint John city.

The last election, held in 1939, resulted in return of 29 Liberals and 19 Conservatives from the 17 constituencies represented in the 65-seat legislature.

Candidates in the field total 137, with Liberals and Progressive Conservatives contesting every seat, while the CCF has 41 standard bearers. Contests in every constituency but Northumberland are three-cornered—a departure from the usual two-party campaigns in New Brunswick.

Sensational Canucks Drive Swiftly Ahead Toward Seine

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY WEST OF THE SEINE, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Canadian Army armor and infantry drove eastward today in a relentless offensive which swept up town after town and promised to carry them swiftly to the river Seine.

On a score of roads British and Canadian troops are moving as they never have moved before in France. Infantry are making forced marches day and night and shuttle services of trucks are rushing many of them straight to the forward areas.

The Canadians are advancing so fast that headquarters staffs can scarcely keep abreast of reports of new gains pouring in from the quickly-changing battlefield.

Deauville has fallen to the Belgians, British troops are cleaning up Pont L'Evêque and moving on from there and from captured Lisieux. Farther south the Canadians are driving forward from Orbec, 15 miles east of Vimoutiers, after a stiff fight.

At several points the Germans are fighting clever rearguard actions.

Roosevelt Says Lend-Lease Aid Should Remain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—President Roosevelt told congress today that lend-lease aid should continue until the unconditional surrender of both Japan and Germany and emphasized that United States lend-lease has been solely for the defence of the United States.

The President's report covered the operations of the Act since March, 1941 to June 30, 1944, during which total lend-lease has reached $28,270,000,000 of which $4,000,000,000 was disbursed during the quarter ended June 30.

Apparently taking note of statements by some persons that this vast program of Allied aid should be curtailed or dropped after Germany is defeated, the President, in giving a quarterly report to congress, asserted:

"We should not permit any weakening of this system of combined war supply to delay final victory a single day. . . . Until the unconditional surrender of both Japan and Germany, we should continue the lend-lease program on whatever scale is necessary to make the combined striking power of all the United Nations against our enemies as overwhelming and as effective as we can make it."

CAN SPEED VICTORY

"We know now that by combining our power we can speed the day of certain victory. We know also that only by continuing our unity can we secure a just and durable peace."

The President said lend-lease is playing a vital role in current offensives that find the Allies "moving relentlessly along the roads which lead to Berlin and Tokyo."

The report comes at a time when Congress is bothered by rumors that a move is afoot to carry lend-lease operations to United Kingdom into the post-war period.

The state department has denied in general terms that such an extension is being considered but did not rule out the possibility.

43 PER CENT TO U.K.

More than 43 per cent of total lend-lease has gone to the United Kingdom and 27.5 per cent to Russia.

The report comments on the fact that while more than $400,000,000 worth of lend-lease has gone to Canada, it was for transshipment to the United Kingdom or the United Nations for further fabrication or for the use of United Nations forces training in Canada.

No lend lease aid is furnished to the Canadian government.

The latest report placed the value of lend-lease supplies and services at $4,045,000,000 for the quarter ended June 30. The total of more than $28,000,000,000 for the full period of the act represented about 15 per cent of all American production for defence and war.

In addition, $678,241,000 worth of supplies have been consigned to American commanding generals in the field for subsequent lend-lease transfer to Allied forces.

Germans Still Hold Two Escape Routes

WITH FRENCH FORCES NEAR MARSEILLE, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The tables have been turned in a week of fighting on this front. Allied columns are over-running southeastern France and it is now the Germans who are struggling on a "beachhead."

French forces are closing in steadily and have already driven a wedge to the sea between Marseille and Toulon. Two escape routes remain in German hands. Both lead northwestward from Marseille. One through Salon to the Rhone valley and the other over sandy stretches of coast and through Marseilles.

The main German force in the area is on a 1,800-foot ridge known as the Chain of St. Cyr, a few miles outside the city and dominating Allied approach roads from the east.

Some Tea, Coffee Coupons Expire On August 31st

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—(CP)—The price board announced last night that tea or coffee coupons numbered 14 to 29 and E1 to E6 in ration book No. 3 will expire Aug. 31 and that only those in ration book No. 4 numbered T-30 upwards, will be valid beginning Sept. 1. It was learned the action was aimed at making ration banking easier for the trade and at eliminating any old coupons which may be in the hands of consumers. Most consumers are using the coupons in book No. 4 but some have accumulated the older coupons.

on the Mediterranean just north of the Spanish frontier and across the southern tip of France from Arcachon, on the Bay of Biscay, where unconfirmed reports said Allied troops landed this morning.

The broadcast said the occupation of Perpignan, gateway from France to Spain, was completed after three Allied planes landed there with a mission which established liaison with French forces of the interior.

Frontier reports from Madrid, Algeria, said, confirmed that the Germans had evacuated the Pyrenees after destroying a depot at the port of Vendres and the viaduct at Banyuls, both of which are between Perpignan and the Spanish border.

AIR SERVICE SUSPENDED

Coincidental with the reported evacuation, the Swiss radio said the German Luftwaffe airline service between Berlin and Lisbon had been suspended.

Reports still unconfirmed said Allied troops landed on the Bay of Biscay, near Bordeaux, in a drive to join Allied columns, which last were reported two weeks ago at Nantes on the Loire river.

Although supreme headquarters refused to comment on the situation, both the BBC and the London Daily Express carried reports of the landing, which would be the third invasion of France.

Atherton Urges Expanded Trade part in the right kind of post-war world unless we adopt sound policies at home, based on sound principles of expanded international trade."

Canadian-American trade policy, sometimes at Canadian, sometimes American instigation, has "swung back and forth like a pendulum" for more than 100 years from a position of mutually advantageous commerce, with restrictive measures reduced to a minimum, from that point back to a status of high protectionism, smothering joint initiative.

"The iron hand of war grasped the pendulum at the spot it had, fortunately, reached on the right side of its swing, the position to which it had been moved by the far-sighted trade agreements of 1935 and 1938. War not only prevented any return movement, it raised the pendulum to the most satisfactory position it has ever reached."

"But when the grip of war relaxed, what happens?" asked Mr. Atherton. "Shall we permit the swing back, the inevitably tragic reaction which has been the characteristic of the last century? Or shall we, at long last, build a firm platform under the pendulum, keep it permanently in the right spot, abolishing forever the fear of those periods of economic disaster, periods when both nations suffer and man if the gains of wise policy are liquidated? North Americans must decide. They must decide soon."

By setting their house in order, by reaching fair and far-sighted agreements with one another Canada and the United States will give more genuine encouragement to the world "than all the noble preaching of all our experts who export the community of nations to co-operate."

Sweden's Sea Trading With Reich Halted

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Swedish War Insurance Board announced yesterday it no longer will underwrite Swedish ships travelling to German ports. This has the effect of eliminating all Swedish vessels from trading with Germany.

The action was a hard blow to Germany because an estimated 50 per cent of the trade between the two countries was carried in Swedish ships. Its effect, as far as reducing iron ore and other vital war exports to Germany probably will be on a par with the embargoes on chrome and wolfram—other steel constituents—by Turkey, Spain and Portugal.

HALT INSURANCE

A Swedish communiqué said: "The State War Insurance Board which on August 11 ceased granting war insurance for Swedish ships to German North Sea ports has, owing to present conditions, decided to temporarily discontinue the granting of such insurance to German Baltic ports."

The Berlin newspaper Voelkischer Beobachter, timing its blast with the Swedish announcement, warned neutrals of possible economic reprisals.

"Certain neutral European countries might be economically and completely lamed by Germany but not by Britain or America if Germany wanted to take up the boycott as a weapon," the newspaper said.

The Swedish insurance board's decision means that the Germans hereafter must use their own ships exclusively to get goods from Sweden—a monumental job for the German merchant marine. The Swedes have been using 400,000 tons of shipping in the North and Baltic seas.

the interior and military government designate of Paris, gave this official version of the deliverance of the capital:

"On the morning of Saturday, Aug. 19, the national council of resistance and the Paris committee of liberation, in agreement with the national delegate representing the provisional government of the French republic, ordered a general insurrection in Paris and in the Parisian district."

"French forces of the interior to the number of 50,000 armed men, supported by several hundred thousand unarmed patriots, went into action immediately."

"The Paris police, who had previously gone on strike, seized the police prefecture and the Ile de la Cite. They turned the Ile de la Cite into a bastion, against which German attacks broke down."

"Toward 8 p.m., yesterday, Aug. 22, after a four-day struggle, the enemy had been beaten everywhere and the patriots occupied all public buildings."

VICHY ARRESTED

"Thus the people of Paris have taken a prominent part in the liberation of the capital."

There was no word immediately that Allied troops had entered the city.

Huge Allied Supplies Held in Readiness For Relief of Paris

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ADVANCE COMMAND POST, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Huge stocks of food, medicine and clothing are waiting in Normandy for the relief of Paris as soon as the Germans are ousted, a high-ranking Allied officer said yesterday.

He estimated that 75,000 tons of food a month will be moved into the former French capital by truck, rail and barge to feed the city's population.

Supplies which formerly flowed into the German occupied city from Normandy have been cut off since the Allied armies landed, and the Germans are reported in the last 48 hours to have been stripping the city and destroying what they cannot use.

lines have been denied to the Germans scrambling to get out of the remote corners of France and have been opened to the Allies to further their advance.

ESCAPE ROUTES CUT

The dash of southern forces to Grenoble, 140 air miles from the Mediterranean beaches, and to Sens, southeast of Paris and approximately 160 miles from the German border, largely cuts off the escape routes of the Nazis in the south unless they try an exit into northern Italy.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's offensive-minded generals, headed by Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery, are sure to exploit the strategic location of Paris for a quick cleanup. The capital is only 110 miles to the borders of Belgium and a drive in that direction would not be a valuable channel ports as well as wipe out the most bothersome of the flying bomb nests.

Allied sources described the situation for the Germans as this:

The Germans lack any new panzer forces to replace those ground up in the Falaise-Argentan pocket.

Their Luftwaffe is a feeble and spent force.

Their infantry lacks transport even for retreat.

On some battlefields they are even running short of explosives and guns.

Slashing of communications had made a mockery of the famous Wehrmacht organization. Competent military critics assert that only the SS Panzer Grenadiers are capable of putting up a fight and they lack the tools.

Infantry leadership is largely in the hands of officers who are either too old or too young.

Meanwhile, Allied force is pyramiding and Montgomery's forces shortly will be joined by Maj. Gen. Alexander Patch's Allied army moving up the Rhone Valley.

This is the result of the strategy of Eisenhower and his staff—the men Hitler called "military idiots."

Chinese Clear Way For Final Drive Against Tengchung

CHUNGKING, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Chinese forces are fighting desperately around Hengyung in Hunan province to prevent a Japanese envelopment of their forces northwest of the Canton-Hankow rail junction, but in Yunnan province near the Burma border, their troops in arms have stormed into new positions at the besieged main enemy bastion of Tengchung.

The Chinese stormed into the former British consulate compound just outside the walls of Tengchung, thus removing a serious obstacle to their final assault on the trapped Japanese remnants. The high command said they advanced from the southwest wall more than 100 yards into the city and took the ancient temple, fortified by the Japanese. A counter-attack at the southwest wall was repulsed.

and were carried by teams of stretcher bearers to an improvised mortuary, where residents waited to identify their missing kin.

All the dead children were under five years of age and some of them were infants. Among them were some who had been sent away from London to escape the robot bombings.

Bodies of 16 adults—including three American soldiers—had been recovered late this afternoon and rescue workers said they expected they would find more bodies among the wreckage of the former garage which had been turned into a servicemen's canteen.

The disaster struck with such swiftness that residents of the village, with a population of 1,438, were temporarily bewildered but they soon became organized and all turned to the task of attempting to subdue the flames so that they might delve into the wreckage for the trapped occupants.

HALF DEMOLISHED

Half the school, which only yesterday had re-assembled after summer vacations, was demolished, including the infants' department which housed 41 tots.

Some children escaped from other sections of the buildings. The plane, according to an eyewitness who was standing at a window at the time, was flying low, suddenly burst into flames, turned over on its back, crashed into the top of the school and flashed across the road onto the canteen.

"Within a few minutes," the witness said, "the whole building was a mass of flames."

PARIS IS SLOWLY FREEING ITSELF

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Paris last night was reported to be slowly freeing itself from German clutches and Brig-Gen. Koenig's headquarters announced the French forces of the interior, supported by light artillery, had attacked Germans in the Place de la Republique and on the Boulevard Bonne Nouvelle, with losses on both sides.

Gen. Koenig also announced that the F.F.I. had liberated the departments of Indre, Haute Vienne, Dordogne, Corbise, Cantal, Lot-St-Germain, Lot, Aveyron, Tarn-et-Garonne, Gers, Basses Pyrenees, Haute Garonne, Tarn, Haute Loire, including the following towns: Chateauroux, Limoges, Perigueux, Tulle, Aurillac, Agen, Montauban, Rodez, Auch, Pau, Toulouse, Albi and Le Puy.

Germans fleeing from all parts of France are reinforcing not only Belfort but are taking up positions at the foot of the Vosges on the Plateau De Langres, which is well fortified.

CAPTURED GERMAN SEAT—AND LOOK IT

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, Aug. 23.—(CP)—In the five days since the capture of Falaise the 1st Canadian Army has played a big part in the battles of the Falaise pocket and Trun Gap. And has pushed 30 miles east of Falaise.

South of the Canadian army units of the British 2nd Army also are pushing east and with the Americans already on the Seine between Paris and Rouen a great Allied army is swinging around to trap the German forces still west of the Seine in another huge pocket.

As the drive toward the Seine on this northern flank went into high gear, the last groups of Germans encircled in the Trun area were being mopped up.

PRISONERS COME IN

Later yesterday I passed through Trun, after roaming over roads southeast of the town where the Germans suffered some of their heaviest losses in efforts to escape through the gap. What were probably the last batches of prisoners were coming in from the plain and woods beyond the town.

They were beaten men and looked it. They simply stumbled down Trun's main street to prisoner-of-war cages, the last drops of a defeated army.

Later in Caen I passed 25 big truck-loads of prisoners being taken to the beaches for ships to England. They were just as sorry a looking crowd as the ones in Trun.

On roads winding over the sodden hills southeast of Trun I saw the remains of 7th Army columns which tried and failed to get through the gap. The carnage was terrible. There were spots where the enemy dead were piled by the score along the roads and the muddy ditches ran red with German blood.

Weapons littered the roads and fields were covered with broken ammunition and ration boxes. Big squat Panther tanks were hucked out or abandoned in ditches and hedges, some of them still smoking.

SALIDA, Colo., Aug. 23.—(AP)—The Salida Rotary Club is offering a $100 reward to anyone shooting Adolf Hitler by Sept. 10. It's a matter of some urgency, for the club several weeks ago scheduled a "Hitler service" for Hitler on Sept. 11.

War Controls, Rationing Said Ahead For U.K.

LAKE COUCHING, Ont.—Aug. 23.—(CP)—Richard Miles, a member of the economic staff of the British Embassy at Washington, yesterday told the annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Public Affairs, that war's ravages would mean in bread and butter terms for the British people after the war. Continuation of rationing and wartime controls into the postwar period were predicted by Mr. Miles.

Painting a picture of an economically devastated Britain which can regain its position as a great power only by "belt-tightening" and a planned economy, Mr. Miles unrestricted capitalism would be a thing of the past.

He made clear his belief that the British Commonwealth must in future play a definite role as a British group of nations.

"The question is going to be, after the war, do we talk of the great powers, the United States, the U.S.S.R., China and the United Kingdom, or the United States, the U.S.S.R., China and the British Commonwealth?" he said.

"Can England—a country of 47,000,000 people—claim to be a great power in the company of Russia with her 300,000,000, the United States with her 130,000,000 and China with her 400,000,000?"

"How can the United Kingdom presume to speak for the Commonwealth of Nations, unless the councils of the member countries are more closely concerted. And if she may not so speak, how can the British peoples all over the world claim a place in the councils of the world?"

EUROPEAN POWER

Mr. Miles said that Britain's role as a European power had been brought home to the British people by the war despite the attempt of Britain, between the wars, to hold aloof from continental policies. Britain's 20-year mutual assistance pact with Russia, was a sign she accepted this role while at the same time her friendship with the United States would remain a "cornerstone" of her policies.

"The proper functioning of a world organization will be the foremost of Britain's foreign policy," he said.

Discussing Britain's economic policy, he pointed out that many occupied countries still possess stocks of gold and credits abroad which are intact. Britain, he said, had not only suffered physical ruin, "but alone of the major Allies has suffered the almost complete depletion of its holdings of foreign exchange, other assets, and of gold stocks."

Maj-Gen. Genkiichi Shima died Aug. 6 and Maj-Gen. Genzo Minakami died Aug. 8. The ministry said in announcing their posthumous promotions to the rank of Lieutenant-General.

Bold Allied Gamble, German Error Brought Great Victory in France

The writer of the following despatch, a veteran of the Mediterranean campaigns, landed with the Allied troops in France on D-day and since has covered the battle for France.—Editor.

By HENRY T. GORRELL

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, France, Aug. 23.—Authoritative military sources said today that the German army in France is in a "complete tail spin" as result of the wide-open Allied military tactics and apparently has "lost all capability of further offensive action."

A spokesman, reviewing the operations of the past month which transformed stalemate into rout, said that there were two major factors behind the Allied success:

ALLIES TOOK GAMBLE

1. A gamble by the Allied high command "in view of the delicate supply problem."

2. A "gross miscalculation" by the Germans of the strength of Allied armored forces available for the sweep which sealed off Brittany and now is enveloping Paris.

"It can be said that we gambled to a certain extent, especially in view of the delicate supply problem," the spokesman said, "but in the main our strategy was boldly premeditated, whereas the Germans put all their eggs in one basket in counter-attacking in the direction of Avranches."

"The failure of this counter-attack and the Germans' gross miscalculation of the strength of United States armored forces available to move southward and subsequently on the northward sweep proved fatal."

Following is an authoritative appraisal of the military situation resulting from the route of the German 7th army south of the Seine and the American armored crossings of the Seine near Mantes and Gassicourt.

The Allies are seeking to knock out what is left of the 7th Army on this side of Paris. Remnants of 10 divisions are believed still in the trap.

Simultaneously we are driving northward from Mantes and Gassicourt.

United States forces are converging upon the important ports of Brest, St. Nazaire and Lorient on the Brittany peninsula and the new British-Canadian-American drive toward the northwest directly threatens the great seaport of Le Havre. Hence, by the time the storms develop in the English channel, harbors other than Cherbourg should be available to Allied shipping.

IMPORTANT FACTOR
The capture of enemy organizational equipment stranded inside our lines by the swift movement of battle is regarded by some as even more important than the great bag of prisoners.

It still is possible that the total bag of prisoners in the Falaise-Argentan sack will total close to 100,000 in the opinion of some military quarters.

The Germans south of the Seine have been virtually stripped of tanks, guns, mortars and transport. Prisoners include the commanding general of a German army corps and his entire staff. The general revealed that his predecessor was killed by bombing near St. Lo, scene of the great armored breakthrough last month.

The Germans at best are believed capable of rallying 10 or 15 divisions for the defence of Paris. Disorganization shown by the number of high ranking German officers found racing through the countryside into our lines indicates that the Germans have no future military plan in France, hence current Allied operations may affect the entire course of the war.

Some quarters even wonder what is keeping the Germans in the war, other than the buzz-bomb and V-2 installations in the Pas de Calais area, on which the Germans have based most of their recent morale-building propaganda.

Aid to Russia

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Official figures released by general headquarters of the Persia Iraq command yesterday showed that more than 3,750,000 tons of Allied war material have been delivered to the Russians through the Persia-Iraq command. This is estimated to be nearly 50 per cent. of the total aid given Russia by Britain, Canada and the United States.

Sexton Rolls Along Test Road

Those Canadian-designed and built self-propelled guns known as Sextons that are blazing away with powerful 25-pounders at German armored vehicles in France were put through the most rigid tests before going into action. On the testing course, a two-man team operates the mobile gun. On the field of battle the self-propelled gun carries a crew of six.

Soviets Racing Into Romania In New Drive

The Balkans along the entire 1,200-mile twisting front from the Gulf of Finland to the Black Sea.

Other Soviet forces to the north cleared a 37-mile stretch of the south bank of the Bug River northeast of Warsaw preparatory to a crossing that would outflank the Polish capital from the north, advanced to within nine miles of Lomza on the southern approaches of East Prussia, and beat off heavy German attacks south of Riga.

Marshal Rodion V. Malinovsky's 2nd Ukrainian Army crumpled German defenses on a 74-mile front on both sides of Iasi and advanced up to 37 miles in the first three days of its offensive in northeastern Romania.

Iasi, where the Germans halted a Russian offensive last April, fell after the Soviets had swung around to the south and cut all routes of escape for the garrison. Then, attacking simultaneously from the north and south, the 2nd Army smashed row after row of concrete and steel strong points and broke into the city.

The three-belted fortified system around Iasi which was pulverized by Malinovsky's forces was commenced in 1914, improved in 1939 and 1940, and perfected this year.

TRENCH SYSTEM
An average of seven concrete pillboxes every half mile ringed the outer belt. They were connected with a criss-cross system of deep trenches and had the further protection of a forest of barbed wire entanglements. The three belts, spaced some six miles apart, were bolstered also by a network of forests and rivers, which made movement of war machines difficult.

A massive artillery bombardment tore wide gaps in the fortifications into which poured tanks, infantrymen and self-propelled guns. Soviet shock troops assaulted the trenches and slaughtered hundreds of Germans in ferocious hand to hand combat. At the end of the first day's fighting, 3,000 prisoners had been taken.

NAZIS ROUTED
"Fiercest fighting lasted almost 24 hours," the Soviet communiqué reported. "The enemy brought up several formations to help the last

Champion Nazi Escape Artist Again Captured

COCHRANE, Ont., Aug. 23.—(CP)—Eckhart Brosig, champion escape artist among German prisoners-of-war in Canada, was taken to the prison camp at near-by Montellth last night after his fourth unsuccessful break for freedom in two years.

The first four escapes by the 24-year-old German airman were made from the Montellth camp but his latest was from a camp at Medicine Hat, Alta., although his escape route to the east brought him back to the vicinity of his old camp.

CAUGHT IN ONTARIO

He was picked up Monday night at Abitibi Ferry, about eight miles east of here, by Provincial Constables H. Purdy and S. Timmermans who were called from Timmins to investigate the presence of a stranger there. The officers had not received any report on the escape which officials of the Medicine Hat camp said was made some time between two p.m. Sunday and two p.m. Monday. There was no immediate explanation of how he reached this district so quickly.

Brosig, speaking excellent English with only a trace of an accent, told the officers he was from Brazil and was in Canada to study airplane service. He said he had been injured in a crash on the west coast and after receiving hospital treatment at Spokane, Wash., returned to Canada and was on his way to Montreal.

He had a registration certificate, discharge papers from the Spokane hospital and other papers which appeared to confirm his story of his identity. He carried plenty of money and appeared to have a thorough knowledge of Canada.

MINOR DISCREPANCIES

Although his story seemed plausible, a few minor discrepancies aroused the suspicions of the officers and they brought him here for further questioning. Yesterday morning, officials from the Montellth camp arrived and they immediately identified him. They also said they had received no word of his break from the Alberta camp.

French Port of Marseille Now In Allied Hands

the last practical highway out of the city and a smaller distance from the great salt lake which extends southward to within a few miles of the Mediterranean.

More than 17,000 prisoners have been captured in the first week of the invasion. Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, supreme Allied commander, announced in his daily communiqué. Of these, 12,000 already have been evacuated to Italy and Corsica.

The American armored push into Grenoble heightened the threat of encirclement hanging over German forces remaining in southwest France and Allied sources predicted the early enemy evacuation of the entire area rapidly being pocketed between southern beachhead and Allied forces 250 miles to the north, beyond Paris.

Capture of Lyon, 58 miles northwest of Grenoble, would sever all remaining railway routes between southwest France and Germany, while an advance into Chambery, 27 miles north of Grenoble, would cut the railway passing through the Modane tunnel into northern Italy. The only other railway between France and Italy runs along the Riviera coast and was severed on the first day of the invasion.

125 MILES FROM VICHY

Grenoble also lies 125 miles southwest of Vichy, seat of the French puppet government.

Gen. Wilson reported that French Maquis—members of the French forces who had taken to the interior—aided the Americans in their advance northward through the Alps. Grenoble itself long has been one of the strongest centres of the French resistance movement.

The advance probably established the first effective land contact with French Maquis in the Savoie Alps, who for many months have been supplied with arms and ammunition by Allied planes. Grenoble, a city of 100,000, is the capital of Isere Department, which borders Savoie Department.

HISTORICAL ROUTE

The American push was made up the Durance River and Isere River valleys, avoiding the more famous Rhone valley, some 50 miles to the west and the historical invasion route into Central France.

The troops travelled so fast they outran their supply columns and this prompted Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, commander of the invasion forces, to issue an order that the columns press on "Regardless of fatigue or possible shortages of food and equipment."

Though Grenoble lies 140 air miles north of the landing beaches, the tanks and troops actually covered closer to 200 miles in their record trek over mountains and through valleys. Even if they had travelled a total of only 100 miles, they would have averaged at least 30 miles a day.

ent jobs since his arrival here in May, it was stated.

Frank Latour, charged with theft, told the court he would willingly go to work on a farm if given the opportunity. The chance was given and he was placed on 12 months' suspended sentence and his own recognition of $500.

tion as to whether it had been damaged in the battle.

With the island in the Seine securely in their hands, the patriots spread swiftly through the rest of the city, overwhelming isolated German rear guards cowering behind barricades.

The cheering, singing crowds hoisted the tricolor on all public buildings and posted guards around the city gates.

It was announced that a number of Vichy government representatives were arrested, although the puppet mayor fled before the city's fall.

The reinforced Canadian first and second armies, meanwhile, closed in for the kill on the all but encircled remnants of the Nazi 7th army south of the Seine.

ONLY 93,000 ALIVE

Only about 93,000 of the more than 400,000 Germans who defended Normandy on D-Day were alive and uncaptured in the narrowing corridor extending from the channel to the northern suburbs of Paris and from the Seine to the Touques and Vie River lines.

And those fleeing remnants were being hounded mercilessly from land and air, bombed and shelled as they raced for the Seine, where Allied planes swept through low-hanging clouds to strafe the river crossings.

United Kingdom, Canadian and Allied troops pushing eastward toward the Seine advanced an average of 10 miles all along the line yesterday, with one of Lt. H. D. G. Crerar's units along the channel coast sweeping into Treville, only 7½ miles from the Seine estuary.

British airborne troops are playing a major role in the advance along the Normandy coast, BBC observer Chester Willmott reported from the front. They have beaten the Germans at every turn, he said, driving them back 20 miles in four days and showing no sign of stopping. The airborne troops engaged have been in action virtually without respite since D-Day. Willmott said, and presumably are part of the British 6th Airborne Division.

THREATEN ESCAPE LINE

Squarely across the path of the retreating Germans, American 2nd Army troops lunged toward the channel on both sides of the Seine, threatening to close off the last line of escape to the shattered enemy.

Headquarters spokesmen refused all details on the exact progress of the Americans and official silence also hid the whereabouts of the columns that captured Sena yesterday after a 65-mile unopposed dash southeast of Paris and drove on to eastward Troyes, 43 miles to the east and only 130 miles from the western borders of Germany.

The capture of Troyes would put Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's tank columns astride the main trunk railways to Alsace-Lorraine and Germany's industrial Saar valley, and would close the last direct main-line escape route for all the Germans in southern France.

In their channel coast advance Canadian, United Kingdom and Belgian troops rolled back the entire Nazi flank, capturing the seaport towns of Cabourg, Houlgate, Villers-sur-Mer and Deauville and penetrating Trouville in a general advance toward the mouth of the Seine.

Seven miles south of Trouville, they captured Pont Leveque and moved up to the west bank of the Trouves river.

IN BRITISH HANDS

The key highway junction of Lisieux also was reported in British hands. South of that town the Brit-

Churchill, F.D.R. May Be Present For Paris Entry

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—The Daily Herald said today that plans were being made for Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt to be present at the triumphal Allied march into Paris, "if that is practical."

The march into the city will wait until the "campaign of destruction of the German armies goes a stage further," the paper said, but added that "special newsreel operators who will make a picture record of the march already have been detailed for duty and military bands which will play in the march are now in France practising."

French troops will head the parade of all Allied troops under the Arc De Triomphe, with Gen. de Gaulle probably having the place of honor, it was said.

The Daily Mail, in an article by Don Iddon, also said that a conference between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill would "take place within a matter of weeks on French soil."

Plan Renovation Of City Creche

Extensive renovation and alterations of the city Creche will be undertaken as soon as the manpower and material situation will permit, it was announced Wednesday by R. J. Gibb, city commissioner.

He said that plans for the alterations had been drawn up by City Architect Maxwell C. Dewar. Repair work will include extensive work on the roof of the building, painting and decorating.

ish crossed the Orbec, Vie and Touques rivers and pushed on to capture Orbec and Vinouliers.

At the southern end of the line, Lt. Gen. Sir Miles Dempsey's British Second Army swept forward more than 15 miles from captured Gace and seized the town of Laigle.

The longest British advance occurred due west of Gace where they already had turned the line of the river Touques. British tanks covered the 17-mile sweep into Laigle-Sur-Risle against only spasmodic opposition. A blown bridge halted them at Laigle but forward elements already were across the river and the town is firmly held.

With the capture of Lisieux by United Kingdom troops under Canadian command the Allied armor will again be able to play a big part in driving westward. Beyond Lisieux close-grown forest country opens up in the region of Bernay and the Germans will be hard put to halt Allied armored columns before they have crashed over the Risle, forcing them back into Rouen across the Seine. Maquis reports stated the Germans are already getting men, but no material, across the bridgeless Seine in the Rouen area by every available means.

New Anti-Cholera Vaccine Reported

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Dr. Ellice MacDonald of Fort Ellice, Sask., director of the Franklin Biochemical Research Foundation at Newark, Delaware, has announced the discovery of a new anti-cholera vaccine, it was learned here. The announcement follows three years work by Dr. MacDonald and his associates, Drs. Robert J. Jennings, and R. W. Linton.

Easy to produce, the vaccine contains no reaction producing substances and is inexpensive. The report, published in the current issue of the Franklin Institute's journal, says the new vaccine "should pave the way for the elimination of that dread plague throughout the world."

The new vaccine can be produced in a few days and only one dose is required as cure or preventive. The dose is so small that 65,000 doses can be carried in a small flask, the report says. Immunity is produced for a year.

Have a Coca-Cola = Come on over

... or keeping youth happy at home

Keeping young folks happy at home is mostly a matter of having a house in which they and their friends feel welcome. A radio, or a phonograph and some records; a place to dance, a little food and they're happy. And don't forget Coca-Cola... it's always a big attraction for the young crowd. It says better than words, Come on over... we're glad to see you. Be sure there's "Coke" in your icebox. In all the world there's no more cordial invitation, nor one more refreshing, than the three simple words... Have a "Coke."

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke."

Eight Canadians Reported Killed In Jap Typhoon

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—(CP)—A

Japanese radio announcement of typhoon destruction in January disclosed the presence of Canadian prisoners of war from Hong Kong in a prison camp at Nilgata, a town on the northwest coast of Japan. A wartime information board release said yesterday.

Official Canadian inquiries, following the broadcast, revealed that eight unidentified Canadians were killed in the typhoon and 21 were injured.

A neutral official visited the camp in May and found 13 Canadian NCO's, 112 privates, along with 215 Americans, 14 Dutchmen and two Britons. The prisoners had arrived from Hong Kong, Sept. 2, 1943, and from the Philippines Oct. 8, 1943.

The camp is outside the danger zone, in a healthy district, and accommodation, in wooden huts, was considered satisfactory, said the release.

Prisoners have only been allowed to write once since arrival, although theoretically, they may send one letter and one postcard every four months. Three consignments of Red Cross parcels have been delivered, and an official source reported that clothing was adequate and the food much improved.

There is a medical officer and a dentist, but no chaplain. A number of the prisoners were suffering from beriberi, digestive troubles, dysentery and respiratory diseases, although the medical officer said there had been considerable improvement in health since moving to the Nilgata camp.

Only 17 prisoners work. Some of them in machine industries, others in factories and at the docks for which they receive a small remuneration.

Says Nazi Losses In Western France Exceed Stalingrad

LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP)—The

BBC in a broadcast beamed yesterday to the German army, quoted a British military expert as saying that "the amount of German troops and material destroyed in Northern France is greater than at Stalingrad." The Germans were told in the broadcast that of about 750,000 German troops thrown into the battle in France, "more than half have been killed, taken prisoner or wounded, and the rest face even a greater trap."

ARMY OVERSEAS (LIST M-563)

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

YANKS assured themselves of the bye in the coming playoff for the Senior Baseball League title when they kayoed the Arrows 4-3 on Tuesday night. It was the forty-sixth of the 48-game schedule. And the third berth will not be settled tonight unless U.S. Signals knock over the leaders—additional evidence of stout competition in this year's circuit.

Yanks, probably a little bit hungrier after their series with Ladd Field all-stars, showed more power than in recent games and it was against good pitching too, for Bill Wigle's work certainly comes within that category.

Wigle, a Windsor boy, had a try-out with Detroit Tigers two years ago and was immediately tagged. He was to have gone to a farm club, but a call said he and so Bill has been doing his pitching as a member of the Canadian Army. And, by the way, yesterday was the fifth game in that many days for the young southpaw.

HUNTER VERY EFFECTIVE
TUESDAY night's was one of the best of recent games at Renfrew and Arrows came close to taking the decision. They had a golden opportunity in the second with the bases clogged and no out. Forrest Hunter was on the spot then and the fact that only one run came in is proof of his mound skill.

Hunter did very effective work for the Dodgers last season, but he is even better this year and his record shows it. He has four wins (Al Walker was credited with last night's) as against two losses and one of the latter was on June 18 when he was injured and was relieved after just two-thirds of an inning. Two unearned runs and one hit meant defeat.

Hunter has worked in three games, pitching 29 2-3 innings, and only 10 earned runs have been scored against him. He has given 11 bases on balls, has never hit a batter or unearned a wild pitch.

But when it comes to relief hurling, Al Walker appears to be the handy man around Renfrew. Al pitched to three batters last night and struck out two of them in picking up his fourth win of the year. Walker has done eight relief jobs and his single loss was a four-inning fire assignment in which he allowed one hit and one unearned run.

It is rumored the new ruling from Ottawa regarding participation of service men in sports, may cost the Dodgers a couple of their key men—Dave Brockie and Mel Ottom—both of whom are well up amongst the leaders in hitting.

To Meet Again Friday

Junior Football Franchise To Canadian Athletic Club

CANADIAN ATHLETIC CLUB'S application for a franchise in the Edmonton Junior Rugby League was approved at the meeting held at the Barn on Tuesday night. A further meeting will be held on Friday when a new slate of officers will be named.

Each of the four athletic clubs holding franchises in the league—Edmonton, Canadian, Maple Leaf and South Side—in the meantime will name a representative for the executive. Under the constitution, the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer cannot be connected with any of the member clubs.

Under the tentative plan suggested for operating this year, the four athletic clubs would field a joint team in a league along with one from H.M.C.S. Nonsuch and another from 4 I.T.S.

In addition to President Art Carlson and Mel Wilson, secretary, the list of those attending last night's meeting included Tom Hays, Tom Green, Ken Henry, George Snow, Clarence Moe, Paul Kirk, Ken McAuley, E. C. Shaughnessy, Doug Stevenson, Ralph Blackmer, F. O. J. (Jake) Jamieson, Surg. Lt. McCallum, John Easton.

Smythe Unable Resume Duties As Leaf Director

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Major Conny Smythe, who was wounded in France, won't be well enough to resume his duties as managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League this season, his son has informed hockey associates. The son, Staff. Ord. Smythe visited his father in hospital in England and cabled that Conny has "a very nasty wound" although "he now is considered out of danger." Frank Selke, acting manager of the Leafs, said the hope had been expressed in a cable to Smythe that he would be able to resume hockey duty this season.

CONNY'S CONDITION REPORTED IMPROVED
LONDON, Aug. 23.—(CP Cable)—Condition of Maj. Conny Smythe of Toronto, wounded in Normandy last July, has improved sufficiently to allow him to leave his hospital bed

Bobby Permane Receives Thrill Setting Record

By BOBBY PERMANE

WINNING five races a day for three consecutive days at Tropical Park last spring was thrilling, and my biggest bang came in the very last race of the meeting.

I had already won four races and had the mount on Belfry Chimes in the eighth. Going to the post I kept thinking what a wonderful thing it would be if I could snag this one and complete a five-winners-a-day triple.

I could hardly restrain myself during the running of the race, I was so eager. So I began singing to Belfry Chimes:

"Ring that bell for me, Belfry, ring that bell for me."

That kept my horse steady and my eyes popped out when my mount raced under the wire ahead of Budded and Farragut, giving me a world record.

for short periods, it was learned Tuesday.

At the same time officials warned that the man who quit leading the National Hockey League Toronto Maple Leafs to bring his sportsman's battery overseas still is on the danger list. They added that the respite from what Conny considered the "ordeal" of bed confinement was restricted to a short walk around his room.

Bill Wigle Makes Mound Debut; Signals' Chances Improve

Yanks Grab Playoff Bye: Beat Arrows 4-3

Ninth Inning Hits Produce Winning Run

YANKS grabbed off the bye in the playoffs for the Senior Baseball League title when they eked out a 4-3 win over Arrows by scoring a run in the ninth inning of Tuesday night's game at Renfrew Park.

Now U.S. Signals can clinch the third berth by defeating Yanks tonight, but even if they lose, Arrows would then have to beat Yanks on Thursday to gain even a tie for the remaining playoff spot.

Bill Wigle, soldier in the Canadian Army from Windsor, Ont., and upon whom Detroit Tigers hold strings, made an impressive debut with Arrows, even although he was nicked for 10 hits. The league leaders got to him for three in the third and these along with a wild pitch produced two runs.

With the exception of that inning and the ninth when Burchfield's triple and Dorsky's subsequent single produced the winning counter, Wigle easily held the Yanks under control.

The five hits Forrest Hunter yielded came in three separate innings and each time a run resulted. In the other five frames Hunter was unbeatable, it being a case of three up and three down. He gave way to a pinch-hitter—Wilbur Ray—in the eighth and Al Walker worked the last inning and received credit for the win.

Yanks picked up a singleton in the initial stanza. Wigle walked Burchfield, first man up, and the fleet third sacker stole second and later third. Dorsky struck out.

Wigle then walked Roush too. Galvin rolled one to the Arrow chucker and Burchfield was out at the plate. Wigle to Samis. Pete Meyers hit to left scoring Roush.

Maskewich singled to start off the Arrow half of the second and went to second when Hunter missed fielding Ed Gau's bunt intended for a sacrifice. Ken Samis hit safely and Maskewich scored when Crumly dropped the ball on Valent's throw in following Lupuli's fly to short center.

Yanks took the lead again in the third. After Burchfield flied out to left, Dorsky marked a single in center field. Roush popped to Wigle in the second out, but Galvin hit to left and Dorsky made third, from where he scored on a wild pitch. Galvin also crossed the plate when Meyers hit to center.

Arrows got one run back in the fourth. Maskewich walked, was advanced by Gau's sacrifice and scored on Ken Samis' second hit.

The Arrows drew even with Yanks in the eighth when Read singled, stole second and came home on Bill Wigle's drive into left.

Yanks had a chance to win in their half, when with two away Marlowe Robertson doubled and Crumly was passed. Wilbur Ray was sent in as pinch-hitter for Hunter, but was tossed out at first by Wigle.

After Al Walker retired the Arrows in the ninth, Burchfield tripled to the south fence and Dorsky singled him home with the winning run.

Wintle's Death Said Accidental

CALGARY, Aug. 23.—(CP)—A verdict of "accidental death" was returned by a coroner's jury Tuesday, inquiring into the death of Jockey Tommy Wintle, Edmonton, who died in the General hospital Monday as the result of injuries received in a race track spill at Calgary's Victoria Park Saturday.

Presiding Steward George W. Schilling testified he had "sensed an accident" from the start of the race, after Wintle began "pushing his free-riding mount."

Still Barred From Playoffs

Service Clubs Now Permitted To Play in Civilian Leagues

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—(CP)—An armed forces sports order issued Tuesday permits servicemen to play on service teams in amateur leagues that include civilian teams but prohibits them playing on civilian teams or in games leading to group, provincial or dominion championships.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—(CP)—You can chalk up one favorable credit for the war anyway—it's making big time sport and big-time sport promoters much more appreciative of the part the amateur game and the small fry play in their scheme of existence.

There was a time when good material was plentiful as all get-out in any sport you could mention, and it was always there for the asking. But now that manpower is so shy the professional and top amateur organizations have to dig deep for player footprints.

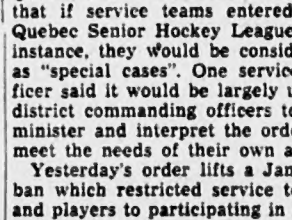

It's encouraging to see a move like that made by Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, whose interest in the small fry is taking the shape of a special all-star professional-amateur baseball contest tonight. The Toronto Baseball Association is providing the opposition, and the boys have been getting a lot of good out of practices at the Leafs' park, and pointers from players themselves.

Then the game's proceeds that will be turned over to the amateurs will help them on their way financially.

It's a good move, and one that will pay dividends in future, if it is repeated at not-too-infrequent intervals. The big-time footballers out in Winnipeg found it a pretty sure future in terms of player returns when they acted similarly to coach and encourage the youngsters in the Manitoba capital in years gone by. Any spade-work done in that direction won't be regretted when it comes time to harvest the crop in future years.

Taciturn Phil: Elmer Ferguson reports in the Montreal Herald that Phil Watson, loquacious ice artist with Montreal's Les Canadiens last winter, is writhing in agony keeping himself silent as the Canucks' summer softball squad wends along its schedule. Phil says he is saving all his wisecracks for the winter, and he hopes to talk at least 20 players into the penalty box early in the season. If he doesn't burst before then, Phil really should be full of opponent-maddening suggestions.

Bowling Starts At Recreation Alleys Tonight

Recreation Bowling Academy alleys which have been closed since July 22 for re-surfacing and a complete overhauling, will open for the current season tonight. This is the first time that the entire plant has been closed since 1932.

League season will commence about Sept. 17 and in the meantime applications for bowling privileges will be accepted from leagues, teams and individuals.

All applications should be sent to Gordon Barker, manager, as soon as possible, in order that the season's schedule might be arranged at an early date.

Sketch is a claimant for a share in the Dominion 80 metres intermediate hurdles record, in a recent meet she stepped the distance in 13 seconds, equalling Hamiltonian Betty Taylor's 1931 mark.

They've marked up another one for the record books at Fredericton. They had to call a baseball game there when forest fires sweeping the New Brunswick woods poured a pall of gloom over the diamond in the fifth inning.

Amateurs Complete Round

Pros Will Qualify Today In Tam O'Shanter Tourney

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The chaff was separated from the wheat Tuesday as 26 of 384 amateurs and 25 of 49 women, qualified for 72-hole medal play finals in the two divisions of the Tam O'Shanter All-American golf tournament.

Heaviest interest, however, centered in today's qualifying round for 215 professionals, with the 40 low scores and 40 exempt stars surviving for the 72-hole race for golfdom's greatest prize list—$42,500 in war bonds—which starts Thursday and runs through Sunday.

After Monday's par-busting brigade of amateurs had finished their chore with 22 scoring 75 or better, only two of yesterday's 119 simon qualifying fold by coming within three strokes of par.

No one came within seven strokes of the brilliant 67 fired Monday by

Milner Strikes Out 11

Officers Trim Enlisted Men For Edge in Fastball Series

USAAF Officers held a threat by the Enlisted Men in the seventh inning to a pair of runs at Kingsway Park Tuesday night to triumph 3-2 in the opener of the best of three City Men's Fastball League semi-final.

Mike Milner was again in the limelight for the Officers. He allowed five hits, one more than Augie Wullenweber in a tight pitching duel, but struckout 11 batters and didn't issue a single walk. Wullenweber fanned eight and also never issued a single pass.

Errors played a big part in the Officers win, only one run being earned. They took the lead in the first inning when Bill Tudor tripled and scored on Clint Kellams fly.

Errors figured in their other two runs, however. In the fourth frame, Bill Tudor started off the scoring when he singled, went to second on a miscue, third as Kellams got on base on an error at first, and home on a passed ball.

Kellams advanced on a pair of passed balls and tallied what proved to be the winning run when Harold Peterson flied out.

Two singles, a pair of sacrifices and a bunt sent Heroux and Burns around the bags for the Enlisted Men in the seventh, but Godbey went out to end the threat that brought them within one run of the Officers.

Second game of this series is billed for Thursday night.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Professional boxing receives a luster pat on the back from the new contract between Mike Jacobs and the Gillette Safety Razor Company, which provides that Jacobs stage a fight show every Friday night for a whole year—to be broadcast.

That's the tallest order—the stiffest promotional assignment—in sports history. Its magnitude emphatically endorses leather-tossing as a year-round entertainment of appeal.

The first of these 52 bouts will be held at Madison Square Garden, Sept. 8. Arrangements for the bout were being completed Tuesday at a stormy session of the New York Commission, from which Mike Jacobs was expected to emerge as a featherweight title tilt between Champion Willie Pep and ex-champion Chalky Wright.

About half the bouts will be held at the garden, and most of the rest at Little St. Nicholas arena, which accommodates about 4,500 fans. A few may be staged in other cities, with Jacobs acting as co-promoter. However, all will be aired through the Mutual Broadcasting System, with an average hook-up of more than 200 stations in the United States and 27 in Canada.

THIS fight-a-week project is not an experiment. It's the result of experiments and investigation conducted by some of the smartest men in advertising and merchandising during the past three years. Ed Wilhelm, radio executive of the Maxon Advertising Agency, which handles the Gillette account, explains:

"We have been broadcasting fights, generally from Madison Square Garden, since 1941. Before that, we were convinced of boxing's tremendous following throughout the United States and Canada. We had learned, for example, that no other commercial program can command such radio attention as an important heavyweight championship fight. The attention—the number of listeners—in-naturally diminishes for less important bouts.

However, during our three years of broadcasting we discovered something new—that there is a basic boxing audience—thousands and thousands of dyed-in-the-wool fans who tune in for any bout, regardless of who is fighting and where it is held. It can be sure of getting such a broadcast at a certain time every week. In the past, we could give them fights only when dates were available at Madison Square Garden. This caused wholesale disappointment for those who tuned in on what they thought were fight nights, and got some other program.

INTEREST WILL INCREASE!

NOW, the basic audience will get its fight every Friday night at the same time: 10 p.m., EWT. This basic audience will be increased naturally by the regular weekly schedule. Wilhelm believes. Moreover, it will be swelled tremendously when the millions of men in service return home—men who have become boxing enthusiasts because of their own instructions in the military art and because of their attendance at bouts in camp or aboard ship.

Meanwhile, it's up to Mike Jacobs and matchmaker Nat Rogers to produce talent for 52 rapid-fire boxing shows—at a time when good civil-

Leading Browns Have Perfectly Balanced Club

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The Browns are seventh in batting and fifth in fielding. The Browns have no outstanding player, unless you would call up and coming Vernon Stephens one.

The Browns were without a 300 hitter when Junior Stephens dropped to .297 the other afternoon. Stephens supplied a fair share of the Browns' power, but he has batted only .268 against the Yankees this season, no more than .181 in the stadium.

The Browns have fair journeymen pitchers in Bob Muncie, the amazing Jack Jakucki and the most Nelson Potter, but there is no Tex Hughes, Hank Borow, Hal Newhouse or Dixie Trout on the premises.

How come then that the Browns are well on the way to their first American League pennant and an all-St. Louis World Series?

HELP ONE ANOTHER. Because the Browns have no stickouts there are no favorites, and the men perfected teamwork helping one another.

The club has balance, the most important thing in the game, and speed in the legs of Don Gutteridge, Al Zarilla, Milt Byrnes, Mark Christman, Chet Laabs and pitcher Al Shirley, who is employed as a pinch runner.

The Browns have reserve strength—three catchers in Red Hayworth, Frank Mancuso and Tom Turner, two complete sets of outfielders in Gene Moore, Mike Kreevich and Zarilla and Mike Chartak, Laabs and Byrnes. When a tame arm kept Stephens, the spark, out of the last Yankee series at Sportsman's Park, Floyd Baker played shortstop well enough to help the Browns to an even break, won one of the games single-handed.

HAVE COLLEGE SPIRIT. The Browns have the spirit of a college football team and are skillfully directed by Luke Sewell, ably assisted by two other former catchers, Freddie Hofmann and Zack Taylor.

Sewell learned to handle pitchers in 19 years of catching. There isn't anything about the American League the three old backstops don't know.

They laughed at Sewell for quitting a soft coaching berth in Cleveland and taking the management of the lowly and distressed Browns early in June of 1941, but he whipped them to third place in 1942, and look at them now.

No club has a greater source of player supply. No club has more good players in the Armed Forces. The Browns and Luke Sewell won't stop here.

U.S. Hunters to Get Ammunition

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—United States hunters soon will be able to purchase ammunition again, the war production board disclosed Tuesday that it plans to remove temporarily its ban on sales because animals and birds are causing widespread crop and livestock losses in many parts of the country. The ban originally was imposed in May, 1943, related for the 1943 fall hunting season and restored last Jan. 1.

Swim Meet

The city swimming championships are being held tonight at the South Side Pool commencing at 7:30 o'clock. Ten trophies will be on the line for what promises to be a great swim meet.

Senators Blank Browns 3-0; Free-for-All Highlights Tilt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Johnny Niggeling hurled shutout ball last night as Washington Senators defeated the American League leading St. Louis Browns 3-0 in a game enlivened by a free-for-all between the rival teams in the seventh inning.

The scrap started after the Senators had pushed across all of their three runs in the seventh. George Case, champion base stealer, tapped out a punt that rolled foul as Case raced for first. Nelson Potter, St. Louis pitcher, dashed over to field the ball and without warning, he and Case started swinging. In seconds, their teammates joined in and the fists swung for three minutes before police and military police quieted the players.

When it was over, Case, Potter and Ed Butka, a Senator reserve infielder, were banished from the game.

The victory re-established the defending champions in third place in the American league by a half game margin.

Kay Helm Has Fractured Thumb

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 23.—Players in the All-American Girls' Softball League play for keeps. A fractured collar bone 'stained in Racine will keep Pepper Paire, Minneapolis' pinch-hitting catcher, out for the remainder of the season.

A back injury had her teammate, Faye Dancer, the one-time leading batter, on the sidelines. The chances are that catcher Kay Helm will not be in the Kenosha lineup again this year because of a fractured thumb. Injuries benched Shirley Jameson of the same club for a month.

Dive-Bombing Hun Lines During Allied Advance Proved "Really Exciting"

Dive bombing and strafing German installations ahead of the advancing Allied forces in France, and providing air cover for the navy and ground forces during the actual landing operations was "really exciting and a very good show". This is the opinion of Ft. Lt. Ian George Keltie, DFC, Canadian Spitfire pilot who returned to Edmonton Wednesday morning after completing his second tour of operational flights overseas.

Home Again

Ft. Lt. Ian George S. Keltie, DFC, Edmonton-born fighter pilot has returned home from action overseas for the second time in eight months. After completing his first tour of operations he spent a month's leave here last December, and then returned to active duty. He has now completed his second tour, and probably will be posted in Canada. Son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Keltie, 10042 116 street, Ft. Lt. Keltie won the Distinguished Flying Cross for "demonstrating exceptional qualities of leadership and administrative ability" during his first tour.

Official on Tour Western Canada

On an inspection tour of Western Canada, W. Harty, Montreal, vice-president, Canada Car and Foundry Co., Ltd., and a director of International Utilities Ltd., arrived in Edmonton Wednesday. He is accompanied by A. D. McNab, New York, auditor for International Utilities Ltd.

They conferred with H. R. Milner, K.C., president of Northwestern Utilities Ltd., and E. W. Bowness, Calgary, vice-president and general manager of that company.

Children Should Be Seen—And Watched

To help children protect themselves against traffic accidents the motorists must be on the alert and keep their eyes on them until they are out of all possible danger. The children themselves should be taught to keep off the roadways whenever traffic is close to them.

Labor Shortage Not Expected Retard Harvest

While a definite shortage of farm labor exists in Alberta at present, no difficulty in harvesting fall grain crops is expected if present plans mature, government officials said Wednesday.

In addition to help being recruited all across the country by Dominion and provincial government agencies, and is being distributed in need areas. At present more than 300 members of the armed services are working in Alberta fields on special harvest leave, with an additional group working on farms owned by themselves or relatives.

Civilian help from the east is already moving west, groups of men now working in Manitoba. These will be directed west to the Alberta harvest as work is finished in the eastern province.

In addition to these two labor pools, local available agricultural labor is being directed into civilian channels while pressure of harvest work is high. In rural districts, townspeople who can be spared are being urged to work in the fields.

Farm women from Ontario are being allowed to come west to Alberta for the harvest if they can leave their work in the east, and if they have had farm experience. While the women are not expected in large numbers, they will be useful helping in housework connected with harvesting, as well as in running tractors and other light duties that would otherwise require a man's attention.

In Alberta, farm labor problems are handled by the extension service of the provincial department of agriculture, working in conjunction with National Selective Service and military officials. District agriculturalists are in charge of distribution of extra workers to farms where their services are required.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION
What would be your comment on the statement that Alberta's accidents in industries covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act rose five per cent in 1943?

THE ANSWERS
ROBERT BLACK, visitor: I don't think that is anything more than a natural result of increased activity in industry during the year. With many skilled workers away in the services and unskilled help in many cases carrying on, accidents are bound to be more frequent.

GORDON HOWARTH, railway worker: A five per cent doesn't seem very alarming. It must be remembered that machinery and equipment are gradually deteriorating and cannot be replaced, and as well as that, competent mechanics for maintenance are hard to get. Taking into account the acceleration of industry all over the country due to war, the 1943 record of accidents seems satisfactory to me.

ELLEN H. REID, stenographer: Men will probably say women war workers have something to do with the increase in accidents. I'll stand up for my sex, saying we're just as careful as men, and more so in lots of cases. The five per cent increase last year is probably just natural, due to the fact manufacturing plants are busier than ever before. Many are short-handed and working overtime.

Parties Asked To Give Names Of Enumerators

Request by returning officers in the Edmonton ridings to executive members of the political parties to submit names of enumerators to enumerate the voters for a federal election has been made, according to information made available on Wednesday.

This is the second signpost within a week pointing to an early election, although officials state that there is no indication from headquarters as to the probable date of the appeal to electors.

Recently instructions were issued to the returning officers in Alberta to prepare their poll boundaries, locate polling stations, and generally prepare for a Dominion election.

Party leaders here are preparing for a November appeal. The Progressive Conservative organization has opened offices in the Agency building, and it is anticipated that annual meetings of the Edmonton West and East associations will be held in the near future. These meetings will be followed by conventions to nominate candidates.

ALREADY IN FIELD

The CCF party already has its candidates in the field. They are Miss Mary Crawford in Edmonton West, and Ald. H. D. Ainlay in Edmonton East.

It is expected that the Liberal party will hold a nominating convention in Edmonton West toward the end of September at which Hon. James A. MacKinnon will be given an acclamation. Plans are now being made for the holding of a nominating convention in Edmonton East by the Liberal association in that riding. It is expected Mrs. Cora T. Casselman will be re-nominated.

Announcement recently by Hon. Solon Low, national leader of the Social Credit Party, that all Alberta seats would be contested assures a four-party contest in Edmonton West, and a possible five-way contest in the East riding, as it is understood the Labor-Progressive party intends to nominate a candidate in this riding.

Plans for Social Credit nominating conventions are being made.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Every Age, No Matter Which, Has Compensation After Youth, Age Brings Serenity, Trust in Life, Experience, Understanding of Human Nature That Youth Lacks

Practically all of us look forward to age as a time of dread when we will be an affliction to ourselves and our families; when our mental joints will creak in unison with our knee joints and there will be no health in us and no fun in living. That is why we hang on to youth with our teeth and toe nails and lie about our birthdays and go through all manner of torture and deprivations trying to gambol around like Spring lambs long after we are stiff old sheep.

Strangely enough, we seldom realize that age has its many compensations. One is that it brings us serenity. We no longer exist, as the young do, in a state of jittery apprehension about calamities that may possibly befall us. After we have lived seventy years we cease to borrow trouble because we have seen that so many of the things that we feared would happen to us didn't happen at all. So many of the problems we laid awake at night worrying over solved themselves when the time came. So many of the catastrophes we dreaded turned into blessings that we have learned to trust life, instead of being terrorized by it.

Another of the compensations of age is that the old can do business on half the stock of charms and virtues that the young can. Any old person who is reasonably neat and tidy and in speaking dis-

THESE WOMEN!

"This is the end! I'm finished! It's all over, and I'm going home to Mother... if I can get a train reservation!"

tance of the current fashions can get a reputation as a fussy dresser. Any old man and woman who are gay and amusing talkers, instead of being tiresome repeaters, are celebrated as marvelous conversationalists. And if Grandma and Grandpa would only keep their fingers out of their children's pies, they would be worshipped by their progeny.

Still another of the compensations of age is that it enables one to do what one wants to do and to leave undone those things which one doesn't want to do. The old have an ever-ready alibi at hand. They don't have to go to tiresome parties where they play games or to dull dinners where the food is bad or to suffer boredom. They can weed out their friends and keep only the ones they enjoy. And, having heard all the good music and read the classics, they can turn on the jazz and devour detective stories.

To women, who are more afraid of growing old than men, age is especially kind, little as they think it. Time chisels many a homely girl's face into a beauty and turns many a gawky debutante into a poised woman of the world. Youth is popularly supposed to be a woman's happiest time of life. In fact, it is her most miserable, because it is torn with so many anxieties about her looks, her clothes, her dates and whether she will get a husband or not.

It is only after she passes sixty and doesn't care who knows it, and lets out her corset strings and quits counting her calories that a woman is really happy. Blessed be age!

BUTTERMILK AND SKIM MILK
A quart of buttermilk or a quart of skim milk has just one-half the nutritive value (measured in calories of energy) of a quart of fresh whole milk.

When milk (or cream) sours naturally it does so because the lactic acid bacilli naturally present in milk ferment the lactose (milk sugar) naturally present in milk, producing therefrom lactic acid.

Naturally sour milk is the same as buttermilk in that respect, except that most of the cream (butter fat) has been removed from the milk product known as buttermilk.

Skim milk is the milk product that remains after the cream has been removed. Skim milk is highly nutritious even though about half the calories in pure whole milk are in the cream, the butter fat. Skim milk, like buttermilk, is still a valuable source of protein and sugar, calcium, phosphorus, vitamin G (riboflavin). It is as sensible and sound to throw away refined white flour or white bread or feed it to the pigs as it is to throw away skim milk or feed it to the pigs.

The milk product left after the fat has been removed from the fresh milk by separator is practically the same as the milk product left after fresh milk has been allowed to stand until cream rises and the cream is skimmed off. But the so-called "buttermilk" which is manufactured by a process of working a few particles of some kind of fat or oil into skim milk or separator milk and perhaps doctoring it a bit with a culture of lactic acid bacilli to give it more or less the flavor of real buttermilk (from the churn) is not, in my opinion, a fair substitute for natural buttermilk.

Natural buttermilk is a wholesome, nutritious, healthful beverage for children and adults. It serves every purpose that Acidophilus milk, or any other kind of sour milk beverage can serve. Whether buttermilk or, if you like, whole sour milk, or Acidophilus or Bulgarian milk is more efficacious in promoting a vigorous and healthful growth of lactic acid bacilli and in preventing putrefactive and disease-producing bacteria from multiplying in the intestine than fresh sweet milk is, I doubt. It must be remembered that fresh sweet milk always contains myriads of vigorous lactic acid bacilli.

As a source of calcium, phosphorus, vitamin B1 (thiamin) and vitamin B2 (G, riboflavin) skim milk, separator milk or natural buttermilk is equal to fresh whole milk—and it is well to remember that most people suffer from prolonged or lifelong deficiencies of these nutritional essentials.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Experience is the child's best teacher. One may talk and talk but it is only when the child discovers certain conduct is unprofitable to him, that he decides to abandon such conduct.

A reader is concerned over the perpetual tears of her 27-month-old child. "She weighs 28 pounds, is 35½ inches tall and is an only child," she writes, "but she cries all the time. She has no playmates and she seems lonesome. She has all kinds of toys but never plays with them. She just wants to go by-bye or stands at the gate and watches the other children across the street."

"She never eats three meals; either leaves breakfast and eats a good lunch, or eats breakfast and no lunch. She will ask nicely for a drink. Then if it isn't given her promptly she begins to cry."

"I can't punish her because she cries until she vomits. I put her in her room for punishment but she opens the door and comes out and club, then led the ten of spades. West was forced to win, and had to give declarer a stuff and discard, or lead a diamond right into the king-jack."

She needs playmates and one or more children should be asked to come and play with her if only for a short time daily. It may be the composition of the meals that is at fault, or too little time between breakfast and lunch.

Her hours are poor ones. She should be up by 7:30 to 8 o'clock in the morning and in bed by the same hour. It is never advisable, even if she sleeps longer in the morning to get the child in the habit of staying up until so late. Children should recognize that their sleeping hours and those of adults always differ.

Your mother's behavior does her little credit. If she wants your daughter to respect your orders she must do likewise. Try to try to get in good with a child and make you seem to be a meanie, who wants her to do something she doesn't

For the Victory Garden Club luncheon, or War Stamp Selling committee get-together, here's a delicious hot weather midday menu.

Rice and Crab Meat on Toast.
One onion, finely minced, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ cup top milk, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 cup cooked skinned and quartered, garlic toast. Brown the onion slowly in the butter. Add milk, rice and crab meat. Heat together gently. Add the prepared tomatoes and mix together lightly; allow tomatoes to heat through but do not cook well. Serve on garlic toast.

German Prisoners of War Obtain Parcels From Homeland

"I know what the Canadian prisoners of war receive in their Red Cross parcels, but I'm curious about what German prisoners here receive in the way of parcels from their country." Enquiries such as this are frequently received by the Canadian Red Cross.

Axis prisoners of war in the Dominion receive rations in strict accordance with the terms of the 1929 Geneva Convention. This means that they are fed on the same scale as the Canadian troops who guard them. So German prisoners have not the same vital need of food parcels as Canadians in the German "stalags."

SHUTTLE SERVICE

Consignments for Axis prisoners usually come direct to Lisbon and then to this country, but on a few occasions a very small amount has come on the return trips of the British Red Cross "shuttle" service of ships between Lisbon and Marseilles. On arrival in Canada the parcels either go direct to the camps or in some cases to the International Red Cross Committee's delegation in Montreal, who have special storage accommodation for these parcels. This is done so that supplies can be sent to any camp

You Won't Grow Old If You Keep Abreast of Times

By ALICIA HART

"Off with the old, on with the new," is a youthful attitude that will help any woman rout static behavior traits which are a confession of age.

I'm reminded as I write of a grandmother whose dynamic attitude toward change makes her seem 20 years younger.

It's expressed in general in a lively curiosity; particularly in a lively interest in new fashions in hair-do, make-up techniques, clothes, dance steps—she's her grandson's favorite rhumba partner.

She'll switch her hair in any direction that current styles dictate and will hit upon a coil that makes her look younger because it looks new. Same thing goes for make-up techniques, and proof that her experimentation comes to something is to see her stepping out wearing a mauve lipstick exactly matched to the pert little visor veil that floats out from her hat.

Emily Pyrcz Is Married

The marriage took place Aug. 12 in the Russian Greek Orthodox church at Leduc, of Miss Emily Pyrcz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pyrcz, and Sergius Sharbo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharbo, all of Leduc. The Rev. Eugene Prystupa officiated at the ceremony, for which the church choir provided the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a toe-length frock of broadened satin made with a full skirt, which was of plain satin from below the hipline. The bodice was made with plain satin and featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed with a hemstitched frill, and leg o' mutton sleeves buttoned with tiny buttons from the elbow down to the wrists which ended in lily points over the hands. Her trailing embroidered veil, was held to her head with a garland of stephanotis, and she carried a shower bouquet of Tallian roses and white gladioli.

MAID-OF-HONOR

Attending her sister as maid-of-honor, Miss Vera Pyrcz chose pale yellow cut crepe made on princess lines with sweetheart neckline. The bodice was fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. She wore a matching Juliet cap, and wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Stella and Miss Anna Pyrcz, Miss Lydia Sharbo and Miss Elsie Borys. They wore pastel colored frocks of pink and blue and carried bouquets of carnations.

Little Sylvia Pyrcz, niece of the bride was flower girl. She was frocked in lime green tulle and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers. Gunner Michael Sharbo of Victoria, B.C., Cpl. Manuel Pyrcz of Pearce, Alta., Michael Pyrcz and Alexander Yaremko were groomsmen.

Michael Pyrcz the bride's brother was soloist during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony a reception to 230 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Pyrcz, the bride's mother, receiving with the bride party was dressed in navy blue with navy accessories, and she wore a corsage of red roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a powder blue two-piece dress worn with navy blue straw hat and accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. The bride's table was in white, and centered with a tiered wedding cake. Slender vases of anemones flanked the centerpiece. The couple spent their honeymoon at Sylvan Lake and will take up residence shortly, at Mercoal, Alta.

C.W.A.C. "GOODWILL AMBASSADORS" IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Carrying out the "Good Neighbor" policy to the letter are girls of the Canadian Women's Army Corps stationed in Washington, D.C. During duty hours the girls may be found in the buildings of the Canadian and British Army staffs. Off duty, their trim khaki uniforms are a familiar sight among the monuments and buildings of the busy U.S. capital, just as members of the Women's American Army Corps are often seen in cities throughout Canada. The C.W.A.C.'s seem thoroughly satisfied with the U.S.A. and from the attitude of the girls think it is a fair exchange. In the upper left, Pte. Robert Boas, U.S. Engineer, points out scenic highlights to Pte. Jean Mackie of Toronto. Upper right shows Pte. Alice Mason of Niagara Falls, Ont. (left) checking maps with Pte. Agnes Betnar of Regina, Sask. Lower left, three Corps members descend the stairs of the historic Lincoln Memorial. Left to right they are: Pte. Rebecca Sinton of Westbranch, N.B.; Pte. Ruby Sisson of Morse, Sask.; and Pte. Jean Morris of Ottawa.

MY DAY

HYDE PARK — I have been receiving a number of letters lately on the subject of the value of a year of military service for our boys after the war. From what I read in the papers and get in the mail, I think there is some confusion in people's minds. Some are thinking about the immediate situation in the year or two right after the close of hostilities. Others are thinking about a permanent program of training that will continue into the future.

Let us take the first consideration. There will be, when war comes to an end, a good many men in training who have never been overseas. At the same time, there will be a need for a number of men to act as a police force, or as occupation troops, in different parts of the world for varying periods. The men who have been fighting, and who have lived in remote places for months or even years, are going to want to come home quickly. It might be possible, on a volunteer basis, to get enough young men who have never been overseas to take the places of these veterans. It would give many a young man a chance to see the world, without the danger which his brothers lived through during the war years.

The second consideration can again be divided. One group asks only that all young men be trained for a year in some military service. These people frequently feel that one year is hardly adequate to train a man completely in any branch of our highly mechanized services. Some feel that we should aim at getting our young citizens in good physical condition through two or three months of basic training, and then use the rest of the time as a period of education in democratic citizenship. This will permit them to

Hedging Pressure On Wheat Market

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Wheat futures were under hedging pressure today and the deferred contracts sold at new seasonal lows while the fluctuating at a wide range, opening weak, rallying at mid-session, then easing off in late dealings.

Commission houses were sellers in the wheat pit but only in one or two instances were the offerings large.

Resting orders gave the market some support and government buying discouraged other than a commercial trade.

A prominent local operator bought large quantities of wheat after the initial downturn. Local traders and commission houses supplied the offerings and the late setback was attributed to a full in buying and ease of wheat.

Commission houses offered oats freely and the market also was affected by the weakness of other grains.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 1 cent lower, September $1.54 1/2-1/4. Oats were off 1/4-1/2, September 40 1/2-1/4. Barley was off 1/4-1/2, September $1.07-1/2. Rye was off 1/4-1/2, September $1.14 1/2.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Selling waned in today's stock market and with the liberation of Paris bolstering hopes for a quick victory over the Nazis, assorted issues with a peace flavor shifted to the recovery column.

Prices turned somewhat irregular after the start but dealings were even slower than in the preceding session and spots of strength were present throughout. Some motors, air transport, utilities and other industrial stocks advanced on advances of fractions to around a point, several at peaks for the year longer. Transfers dwindled to approximately 100,000 shares for the full session.

Constitution of Organization To Free World From Hunger Drawn Up for Ratification

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The constitution of a proposed permanent international organization to help free the world from hunger and to improve the economic lot of farmers has been drawn up and submitted to the governments of 44 united and associated nations for ratification, its authors announced last night.

The agency would be called "The Food and Agricultural Organization of the United Nations." Similar organizations to deal with world security and financial problems have been suggested and are under consideration.

The constitution of the food organization was written by an interim commission created by the United Nations conference on food and agriculture held at Hot Springs, Va., in the spring of 1943. The organization will come into being when 20 countries have accepted the constitution.

The broad objectives of the "FAO"—the alphabetical designation given the proposed agency—are set forth in the preamble of the constitution, are:

1. To raise levels of nutrition and standards of living among peoples of the world.
2. To improve the efficiency of the production and distribution of all food and agricultural products.
3. To better the condition of rural populations.
4. And to contribute by these means toward an expanding world economy.

The interim commission chairman—L. R. Pearson, Canadian Minister in Washington—said in a statement that he believed the FAO "is a permanent embodiment of the new kind of international co-operation which men and women all over the world have hoped would be born from the suffering and sacrifice of this war."

PEACE FUNDAMENTALS

Mr. Pearson declared the objectives of the proposed organization are "fundamental and lasting peace."

"Without them," he said, "and without a successful working economy in which the average man has a chance for happiness, the best political arrangements are likely to crack."

The FAO would function principally as an advisory agency, its constitution gives it no powers to inaugurate programs or to take definite actions. It would seek to achieve its goals by promoting research, disseminating information and by making recommendations.

General Crerar Praises Poles With the Canadians

FRANCE, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Lt. Gen. Crerar last night sent a message of congratulations to Gen. Stanislas Maczek, commander of the Polish armored division which fought with the Canadians in the battle for Falaise and in the Trun gap.

The message said Polish troops played "an important and gallant part in recent fighting" and added:

"The 1st Canadian Army is proud to count the Polish armored division among its formations. If we all work as determinedly as well together in the future as we have in the recent past our mutual celebration of final victory cannot be long delayed."

Northwest Air Command Communications Flight Covers Widespread Area

Flying 100,000 miles a month over territory covering hundreds of thousands of square miles, the Communications Flight of the RCAF's North West Air Command has one proud boast: "We fly anywhere from the United States border to the Arctic Ocean."

The boast has been good over and over again. In addition to many trips each month over the North West Staging Route from Edmonton to Whitehorse, pilots of the Communications Flight frequently make trips as far east as Ottawa, as far south as Calgary and Lethbridge, as far north as Akavik, Arctic Ocean base at the northern end of the Mackenzie river air route, famed stamping ground of the North West's pioneer bush flyers.

The flight has several former bushmen among its pilots. Chief of these is the commanding officer, Flt. Lt. Pat Worthington, 344 7th avenue, N.E. Calgary, who succeeded another ex-bush flyer, Squadron Leader Ted Holmes, also of Calgary, as commander of the flight. Worthington, a veteran of the Royal Naval Air Service and the RAF in World War I, the went overseas with the 31st Alberta Battalion and transferred to the air service shortly after arrival on the other side of the Atlantic) flew out of Edmonton and in other parts of the north during the peacetime years. His log-book shows 6,300 hours' flying, probably representing a total of three-quarters of a million miles.

Another of the pilots is Pilot Officer John Nuss, 10924 92 street, veteran Wellington bomber pilot who was overseas more than two years as a sergeant pilot and completed a tour of operations before returning to Canada. Until recently he was a staff pilot at No. 2 AOS. The Communications Flight's job is to haul anyone or anything that can be loaded into an aircraft to any place in North West Canada where an aircraft can land on wheels, floats or skis. Passengers usually consist of busy RCAF officials engaged in operating the North West Staging Route, government experts visiting important mining areas along the Mackenzie river, RCMP officers on their lonely sub-Arctic patrols.

Freight is carried in the form of urgent supplies bound for remote RCAF air bases in the vast North West and Yukon territories. Formed in August, 1942, the flight has been in continuous operation ever since, in all seasons and all weathers, over routes where the thermometer sometimes hits seventy below, or lower. It's single-engine Norseman twin-engine Beechcraft and Lockheed, have ranged over the enormous distances of the Canadian North West in constant and regular operations.

Its pilots have caused to be surprised at any job that comes up. When pilots flying over the North West Staging Route report outbreaks of forest fires in Northern Alberta, Northern British Columbia, or the Yukon territory, for instance, Communications Flight Norseman aircraft on floats are immediately assigned to the job of flying fire-fighters and portable pumping equipment to the scene. Swiftness on their part has helped to keep many fires under control this summer. They land on the nearest lake, set up a temporary base, and stay on the job until their assistance is no longer needed.

The most recent serious fire broke out early this month south of Fort St. John. Two aircraft of the Communications Flight were on the job 16 hours a day until it was under control. The pilots have had their quota of "mercy flights," too. The latest one was made when word was received of a woman expecting a baby and urgently needing medical attention. The Norseman was completely impassable. The Norseman carried a RCAF medical officer and nursing sister, who went along to render immediate assistance to the patient. When they got to the area, they found that hospitalization was essential, and the Norseman, which had already bogged down in one muddy field on landing, had to take off from another field where local residents had cleared a runway through the low scrub.

With three passengers aboard, the Norseman's pilot just managed to get out of the field, clipping the tops of some trees as he took off. He landed at Edmonton after dark, having switched off the engine because the throttle was jammed wide open after a twig from one of the trees had been driven into the intake. The woman went safely to hospital and gave birth to a 16-pound baby.

Forced landings in the uninhabited territory of the North West usually mean being stranded in a vast wilderness, so reliability of aircraft and engines is of the utmost importance. Each aircraft carries a crewman, who keeps the engines in shape and checks over the machine when it lands at lonely places where no maintenance men are available. The flight is more than usually proud of its ground crews, who have worked so efficiently in the severe northern climate that mechanical failures are extremely rare.

IN GROUND CREWS
Several Edmonton and district men are among the ground crews who have made this record possible. These include: Flight Sgt. Garnet Discher, formerly an aero-mechanic apprentice with Consolidated Mining and Smelting in the Yellowknife area, who enlisted in

Hero of Action Outside Agira Is Visiting City

Winner of the Distinguished Conduct Medal, which was presented personally by His Majesty King George, and veteran of the North African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns, Sgt. A. G. Cheshire of Ashmont, returned to Edmonton Wednesday morning. He was one of a group of 51 Alberta men who reached Calgary yesterday and who had returned to Canada aboard the hospital ship Lady Nelson.

Sgt. Cheshire is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis, 10164 115 street before returning to his home. He said the next thing he wants to do is "see what this fighting is like in the South Pacific."

A member of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, he won the Distinguished Conduct Medal for heroic action while on a patrol just outside of Agira, in Sicily.

Then a corporal, he was with a patrol of eight that surprised a large number of German troops by a lightning burst right through the Hun ranks, then circled around the lines and rejoined their company. "We went out on a patrol, did our job and I got a medal," is the way he put it.

But actually it was his leadership that was greatly responsible for the success of the action. The patrol was split up, and Sergeant Cheshire with two other men scaled a high cliff, captured nine Germans—he captured six of them single handed, killed six more, wiped out a machine gun nest and by sheer audacity and surprise the patrol got back safely with the loss of one man, and the injury of one other.

He continued with the regiment in Italy, was hit by shrapnel in the back once, but it failed to put him out of action. On Oct. 27, 1943, the vehicle in which he was travelling tipped over, he broke both legs and after months of hospitalization has now been returned to Canada.</

Hotel Is Damaged At Spirit River

SPIRIT RIVER—Fire of unknown origin broke out early Monday morning at the back of the Dominion hotel. The fire apparently started in an old ice-house, which had not been used in the last four years. By the time the fire brigade answered the alarm, which was turned in by the hotel clerk, George Fair, at 1:05 a.m., the ice house was all but destroyed and the flames were well started on the back shed of the hotel kitchen. With the fire truck and the hand bucket brigade, the fire was brought under control by 3:30 a.m. All available privately owned trucks were on hand to haul water by barrels. The station master kept the train dispatcher posted in case a railroad engine could be used, which would have to come from Rycroft.

According to Rupert Wady, proprietor of the hotel, the damage which has not yet been estimated, is fully insured.

place with roses and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Sgt. Harry Garner, USAAF, was best man. Later Sgt. and Mrs. McMennamy left by train for a short trip to Edmonton. On their return they will live here.

Weather Slowing Ripening Of Crops

ENDIANG—Crops are ripening slowly throughout this district because of the cool weather. On the higher lands cutting of wheat started about the middle of last week. It is expected that cutting will be general in about six or eight days. Six boys arrived Saturday to help with the harvest here. They came from Armenia as crops in that area have suffered from too much rain.

Charles Newton arranged a weiner-roast for Friday night. It was held on the farm of Carl Boehlke. Seventeen young persons attended. Weather Is Now More Favorable For Harvesting

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—(CP)—More favorable harvesting weather was experienced in most areas of the prairie provinces during the last week, and good progress has been made in cutting the crop, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday in the 13th of a series of 16 weekly telegraphic crop reports.

Harvesting now is general in almost all areas, and with the exception of south-western Saskatchewan and southern Alberta "relatively good yields" are reported where combining and threshing has been completed and the bureau. 75 PER CENT CUT

In southern Manitoba about 75 per cent of the crop has been cut and 10 per cent threshed. Threshing is just beginning in the central and northern districts, where from 25 to 50 per cent of the crop has been cut. Floods south and east of Winnipeg have caused undetermined damage, principally to row crops.

Cutting now is general in all parts of Saskatchewan, and it is estimated that 20 per cent of the wheat, 30 per cent of the oats, 50 per cent of the barley and 70 per cent of the rye now has been cut. Saw fly damage continues to be reported from the south-central, west-central, southern and central areas.

The bureau said harvesting operations are "well advanced" in southern Alberta, and will be general this week in the central and northern districts.

"FAIR PROGRESS" "Fair progress" has been made with the harvest in the Peace River district, although rains have delayed operations in some areas. Yields reported from the southern part of the province are low, but in the central and northern districts "better than average" crops are indicated.

In the last week hail occurred at scattered points in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Pasture conditions are "fair to good" in all provinces, and livestock are generally in good condition, the bureau said.

Establish Firm To Administer Air Force Fund

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—(CP)—Incorporation of a non-profit company to administer a $500,000 RCAF benevolent fund to assist airmen and veterans and their dependents in personal financial emergencies, was announced here yesterday. The company will replace three trustees who formerly administered the fund.

The company was formed to expand the work of the fund and to increase the speed with which loans or grants can be made to air force personnel or their dependents in financial trouble. More than $300,000 has been contributed by active members of the RCAF since 1939 and the remainder has been given by admirers of the air force.

The corporation's objects were given as:

1. To advise members or former members of the RCAF or their dependents as to the relief to which they may be entitled in cases of financial emergency and to assist them in obtaining such relief.

2. To make loans or grants of a suitable kind to members of the RCAF or their dependents in urgent cases and where relief is not available from any other source.

3. To create an organization that will be ready to handle necessary assistance for members of the RCAF or their dependents after the war.

PROMOTE INTEREST 4. To promote interest in the fund among the public and among RCAF personnel through the organization of provincial and district committees.

5. To prepare plans that will assist in providing education for the children of RCAF personnel who are casualties in this war.

The assistance is to be provided for cases which do not come under existing governmental compensation systems.

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop is honorary president of the new company, with H. G. Norman, financial adviser to the RCAF as president, and Air Marshal Robert Leckie, chief of air staff as vice president. A board of 15 directors, including representatives from each province, has been elected.
